This program is built around American composer Daron Hagen's recent concerto for the traditional Japanese harp, the koto, featuring guest soloist Yoko Reikano Kimura. Frenchman Darius Milhaud's jazz-inspired ballet The Creation of the World sets the stage, and the drama continues with Armenian-American Alan Hovhaness's exotic work for flute, violin, timpani and strings. The program closes with Mendelssohn's classic symphony reflecting his journeys through Italy.
