5.) What is the application timeline?

Applications will be posted on our MEXT Scholarship website in April; applications are due May 27th, 2014. Those selected to have an interview and exams will sit for them at the Japanese Consulate in Chicago on July 8th, 2014; Consulate recommendations will be announced within a week of the interviews. Secondary screening will then be conducted by MEXT in November. Final decisions will come in December 2014. Scholarship recipients will then depart for Japan in between April 1-7, 2015 (specific departure dates are determined by the university you will attend). Upon arrival in Japan, Scholarship recipients will undergo a 1-year preparatory education course before beginning their undergraduate studies at a Japanese university, unless they choose direct placement.

6.) What is the Preparatory Education?

Each grantee will be enrolled at a preparatory school (either Tokyo University of Foreign Studies or Osaka University) designated by MEXT for a one-year intensive course in the Japanese language and other subjects necessary for preparation for proceeding to the university. If determined incapable of completing the prescribed course at the preparatory school, a grantee will not be allowed to proceed to university. Please see Guideline #6 for more information.

7.) What is the Direct Placement?

Direct Placement is the system whereby the requirement for preparatory education is waived and direct admission to a university is permitted, if you have sufficient knowledge of Japanese language and there is no necessity for preparatory education, or if you wish to enter a university course that has no Japanese language requirement.

8.) Can I choose what university I can attend?

Applicants who apply via Direct Placement will need to submit the Placement Preference Form, in which they name up to 3 Japanese universities and academic department (aka faculty) you wish to join. However, final selection decision will be made by MEXT.

Applicants who do not apply via Direct Placement do not need to choose which university and academic department (aka faculty) they wish to join at the time of application. However, the Consulate General of Japan at Chicago recommends that you research your options. Upon completion of the preparatory education (see Question #6), a Scholarship grantee will take the entrance examination of the university designated by MEXT in consultation with the university and the preparatory school. Please see Guideline #7.1 for more information.

9.) What is the difference between an Embassy/Consulate Recommendation and a University Recommendation?

University Recommendations for the MEXT Scholarship are when a university in Japan recommends a student for the scholarship. This is a separate application and acceptance track from the Embassy/Consulate recommendations. You will need to directly contact a university in Japan to inquire about university recommendations.
